INTRODUCTION | INVITATION

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to participate as sponsor of the 8th Congress of the International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics - European Region (IAGG-ER) in Dublin, 23-26 April 2015, in conjunction with the Irish Gerontological Society.

The feedback from the almost 1,500 delegates at the 7th Congress in Bologna in 2011 was overwhelmingly positive, auguring well for an increased attendance at the Dublin Congress in 2015. We look forward to greeting you in Dublin in 2015!

There is a strong tradition of research and education in gerontology within Ireland, and Irish geriatric medicine (the largest internal medicine specialty in the country) has not only a prominent national Profile but has also engaged strongly with European gerontology since its foundation.

The Irish Gerontological Society is an all-island society (Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland) and is one of the oldest societies in the world dedicated to research in ageing. It is a strongly interdisciplinary gerontological society, with all aspects of gerontology represented in its governance and membership, and a strong belief that progress in making an age-attuned world on a scientific basis lies in ensuring equipoise and mutually respectful relationships between the interlocking pillars of gerontology.

The Irish Gerontological Society has also been to the fore in promoting the Demographic Dividend – the theme of the 2015 Congress. At their joint Congress with the European Union Geriatric Medicine Society in Dublin in 2010, 300 older Irish people joined us for an opening session which included Nobel-laureate poet Seamus Heaney discussing Ageing and the Poetic Spirit, and a symphony concert of music of mature creativity.
This activity occurs against a background of a ferment of activity and major developments in the last decade in research, education, advocacy and industry across the full spectrum of gerontology in Ireland, including:

- Ageing Well Network/Age-Friendly County Initiative
  www.agefriendlycounties.com
- Centre for Ageing Research and Development in Ireland
  www.cardi.ie
- Changing Ageing Partnership
  qub.ac.uk/schools/SchoolofLaw/Research/InstituteofGovernance/ResearchProjects/ChangingAgeingPartnershipCAP
- Irish Centre for Social Gerontology

- Mercer’s Institute for Successful Ageing
  www.misa.ie
- Centre for Ageing, Neuroscience and the Humanities

These provide a solid foundation for the 8th IAGG-ER Congress in Dublin, evidenced by the strong showing of Irish researchers and delegates at the 2010 joint IGS/EUGMS Congress in Dublin and the 2011 IAGG-ER Congress. In addition, they provide models for promoting positive ageing, engagement with advocacy, government and industry, and active involvement of older people. For example, a number of Irish counties are leading in the WHO’s Global Network of Age-friendly Cities and Communities and Dublin hosted the first International Conference on Age-friendly cities in September 2011 in conjunction with the International Federation on Ageing and the WHO. The ‘Dublin Declaration on Age-Friendly Cities’ of 2011 has been updated to a 2013 version and is now signed by numerous cities/communities

For sponsors, the Congress is a unique opportunity to gain access to key researchers and opinion leaders in ageing research in Europe, and further afield.
ABOUT IAGG-ER

The mission of the International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics is to promote the highest levels of achievement in gerontological research and training worldwide, and to interact with other international, inter-governmental and non-governmental organizations in the promotion of gerontological interests globally and on behalf of its member associations. The Association pursues these activities with a view to enhancing the highest quality of life and well-being of all people as they experience ageing at individual and societal levels.

IAGG European Region represents 42 national gerontological societies and has four main purposes:

I. To promote gerontological research in the biological, medical, behavioural, and social fields by member organizations and to promote cooperation among these organizations.

II. To promote training of highly qualified personnel in the field of ageing.

III. To promote the interests of the gerontological organizations in all questions pertaining to international matters.

IV. To promote and assist in the arrangements for holding the European Congress of Gerontology at intervals determined by the Council, as well as assist in planning the International Congress of the IAGG.

WHO IS INVOLVED

In the spirit of engaging with all aspects of gerontology, we have appointed four internationally recognized Irish academic leads to ensure a dynamic European Scientific Subcommittee in each of the pillars of gerontology represented by the Congress. They work in concert with the Executive Committee of IAGG-ER, and members from national societies.

PROFILE OF PREVIOUS DELEGATES

A broad range of delegates have attended previous congresses, including geriatricians, old age psychiatrists, gerontological nurses, social gerontologists, gerotechnologists, economists, scientists in the biology of ageing, policy makers, nutritionists. The Clinical Section is noted for its interdisciplinary nature, and the Congress is a unique European forum for Professional interchange.
CONGRESS THEMES & PROGRAMME

The Congress theme – Unlocking the Demographic Dividend – aims to tap into the growing awareness that gerontological research can help us to understand the collective and personal benefits that we gain from population ageing, a better understanding of the barriers to realizing the full potential of the Demographic Dividend, and the advances in gerontological science which allow these barriers to be overcome in the most effective way possible.

We will illustrate this theme with a strong narrative of Late Life Creativity through the arts and associated activities of the Congress, as well as within the themes of the Congress symposia and keynote lectures. We are confident that the synergy of the energies, vision and drive of the IGS, the active programmes on ageing in Ireland, and IAGG-ER will lead to a dynamic, productive and ground-breaking Congress in Dublin in 2015.

An active social programme, plentiful submitted presentations, interactive poster presentations, and convivial surroundings will support learning, networking, interchanges, and deepen our sense of collegiality. Submissions for the scientific programme are invited from interested participants, more information is available on the congress website www.iaggdublin2015.org

EXHIBITION OPPORTUNITIES AT IAGG-ER 2015

The International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics-European Region (IAGG-ER) Dublin, 23-26 April 2015, in conjunction with the Irish Gerontological Society.

This provides an excellent opportunity for delegates to interact with commercial companies and to familiarise themselves with the latest advances within their field. Our delegates increasingly welcome the opportunity to tap into the expertise provided by exhibitions to answer questions and provide product demonstrations. In addition to the commercial exhibition and the scientific posters, lunch, tea and coffee breaks will take place in the exhibition area in order to maximise the amount of time delegates spend within the exhibition. This will be a great opportunity for exhibitors to display and promote their product and services to over 2,000 delegates.
